

Enumeration Study: 2018?

Previous enumeration studies

2008 - Alice Larson, commissioned by PPEP with
AIFC support

2014 - National Center for Farmworker Health,
commissioned by AACHC

Update to comprehensive 2008 study

Would potentially begin in 2018 to give our organizations a better and more accurate picture of the agricultural workers in Arizona AND support a research project/manual to be used by any state to perform their own enumeration study.

- ▶ Phase 1: Alice develops guidelines based on her work for the last 20 years.
- ▶ Phase 2: University students at the SW Center for Agriculture translate this into a written manual (currently stuck in this phase).
- ▶ Phase 3: Pilot test of the manual to finalize content. This is where Arizona/AACHC/AIFC come in.

What do we do now?

- ▶ Significant budgets cuts proposed to the SW Center for Agricultural Health
 - ▶ Project application scored well enough to be funded in past years
- ▶ They will continue to look for alternate funding streams, still waiting for final budgets from the federal government.
- ▶ Be ready to assist in the pilot project if/when they are able to move forward with the manual.
